

Input stability under larger samples

Same thresholds and nested samples. These are selection checks within a fixed corpus, not population confidence intervals.